I am currently in my final year studying Illustration BA at Norwich University of the Arts. Most recently I was a Christmas sales temp at Boots in 2015, and have many years' prior experience working as a Sales Assistant at an Antiques shop when I was at school. The position became full time throughout the summer before I moved to Norwich in 2014 to begin studying. I am an enthusiastic character and ensure I am always polite and well-mannered. I believe time keeping is an essential quality to have, and therefore organisation and logical thinking is crucial. During my previous positions I have learnt how to work with the public, whilst fulfilling the job requirements.
